- Tuesday, February 7, 2017 Washington, DC: The DC Police (DCP) reported an officer involved shooting where officers shot a suspected robbery suspect. DCP officers were flagged down around 0800 hrs in the 1300 block of Good Hope Road. Officers were told that a robbery had just occurred. The complainants told officers that the suspect was armed. Officers searched the area and found a male suspect that matched the description given by the complainant. Officers approached the suspect and the suspect produced a weapon. Officers told the suspect to drop his weapon, but he refused. Officers opened fire on the suspect. The suspect was shot and disarmed. The suspect was transported to the hospital. In follow-up investigation officers found that the pistol the suspect was armed with was a BB gun. The name of the suspect was not released. The names of the officers involved in this incident were not released pending the outcome of the investigation. There were no other reported injuries.

- Sunday, February 5, 2017 Gatlinburg, Tennessee: The Tennessee Bureau of Investigations (TBI) is investigating an officer involved shooting that left a female motorist injured. The incident occurred around 2315 hrs when a Tennessee Park Ranger (TPR) was injured during a traffic stop by a female motorist. The female suspect (later identified as Chelsea DUNBAR, 28 years old) ran over the ranger's foot and a chase followed. The Gatlinburg Police Department (GPD) assisted in the chase with the rangers. DUNBAR pulled into the Smoky Mountain Elementary School and officers tried to block DUNBAR'S vehicle. DUNBAR rammed a police cruiser then drove away. DUNBAR was cornered again and officers attempted to contain her. DUNBAR struck another officer as he was getting out of the car. Officers shot DUNBAR when DUNBAR continued to drive toward the injured officer. DUNBAR was airlifted to the University of Tennessee Medical Center. The injured officer was also transported to the hospital where the injured officer was treated and released. DUNBAR'S condition has not been released and no charges have been announced.
